2022 Orange County Minority Business Summit

As we move into a new phase of the COVID-19 pandemic, what do minority small business owners need to survive and grow in a changing economy? Join other community, political and economic development leaders throughout the county as we discuss what are the biggest issues facing minority small businesses today. You will hear from lenders, business leaders, economic developers, and business organizations such as ethnic Chambers on how to better assist minority small businesses throughout the County. This event is for business development and economic development leaders in our county and not meant for small business owners.
